The Dementia Services Development Trust

The Iris Murdoch Building is home to the Dementia Services Development Trust (DSDT), which exists to extend and improve services for people with dementia and their carers. It funds projects undertaken by the Dementia Services Development Centre (part of the University of Stirling). Please visit the design and technology exhibition and the library and bookshop during your visit.

By holding your event at the Iris Murdoch Building, you are supporting the work of the DSDT and directly helping improve care for people with dementia. Work funded by the DSDT is actively contributing to higher standards of care for people with dementia.

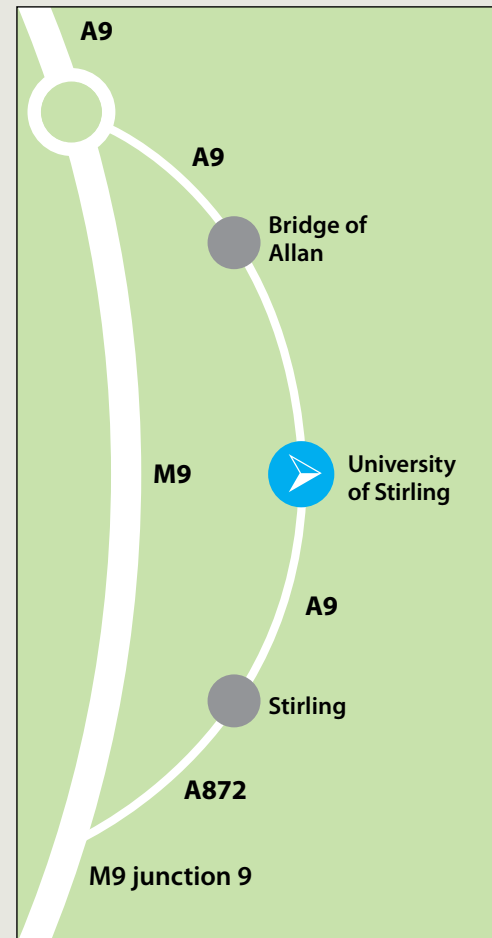

If you would like to make a donation to the Trust or remember us in your will, please contact us for more information. To donate online, please visit www.justgiving.com/dementiaservices.

Hold your event at The Iris Murdoch Building

The Iris Murdoch Building is a charming and unusual conference venue in the heart of Scotland. Book the garden, gallery or reception room for your special meeting, event or celebration.

What we offer

- the garden can accommodate 100 people at a standing reception. It is enclosed on all sides and is welcoming for children. A marquee or awning is optional
- the gallery can accommodate 60 standing guests. It can be used as a reception or exhibition area for an event in the main lecture/reception room
- the main lecture/reception room is an ideal place for a meeting or celebratory event and holds up to 120 seated people. It can be divided into three smaller meeting rooms if required. It includes IT and audio-visual facilities for meetings, but is also suitable for dinners, celebrations and wedding receptions
